

Hi there

I just wanted to share my brand new book with you - 'Welcome to the Sky!'
It's a collection of true helicopters stories I've been lucky enough to experience, and from the great people I've been lucky enough to fly with - here's what Amazon had to say:

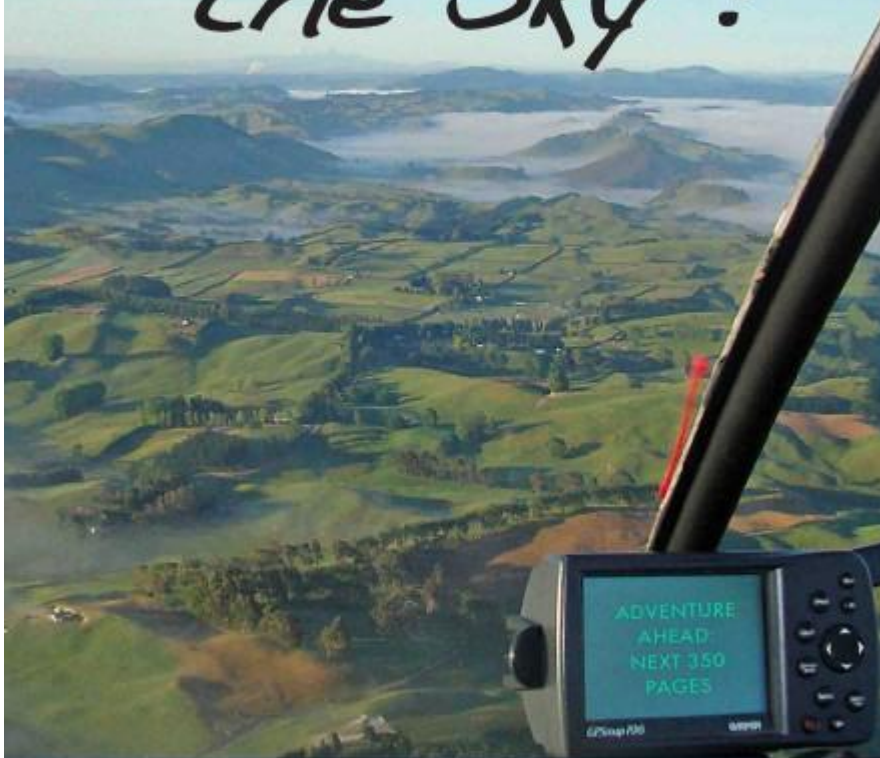

"Sit down and strap in as we explore the skies through the real life helicopter adventures of pilots from around the world. We'll drop Special Forces troops into combat, land amongst the wildlife of the Southern Ocean, smile politely at the SAM missile operators on a restricted Iranian island, and fly low across the snow-capped crystal white peaks of New Zealand, and most places in between. And be back in time for lunch, with just the odd bullet hole. Join pilot Jim Trevors for an amazing insight into the the world of an international helicopter pilot. From active war zones through to flying in the Papua New Guinea highlands, this book is the next best thing to actually being there. So sit back, relax, and Welcome to the Sky!"

"Trevors combines the eloquence of Ernest Gann with the matchless storytelling of Wilbur Smith. For those who'll never experience flight in a helicopter, Trevors' prose is as close to the "real deal" as it gets."

Thanks for reading this, my book's available at www.nuclearshark.com, or you can click the image below, and explore the sky with me!

Cheers, Jim
