

Screentime is producing a new television series Descent from Disaster which we think will be of interest to your members at the Aviation Industry Association of New Zealand .

The series is due to start screening on the 16th of July on TV one and we think that your members will be particularly interested in the Kaimai Plane Crash episode due to screen on the 23rd of July. The presenter Simon Gault of Masterchef fame (and also a pilot in his spare time) will reveal the stories, secrets and valuable lessons learnt from this country's most tragic domestic air disaster.

You can also follow the series on facebook where we will be posting photos,videos and information regarding each episode over the next few days and weeks.

We'd love it if you could pass this message onto all your members and for your interest I've also attached our Descent from Disaster poster below.

Thank you for your time.

Kind regards

Ross Peebles
