

Aspiring Leaders' Forum on faith and values

8-11 May 2014

The Aspiring Leaders' Forum is an annual four day event that brings together the brightest, most committed and courageous young leaders from across all sectors and towns in Aotearoa New Zealand. It is run largely by a community of volunteers, which continues to grow after each successful event.

In 2014 the forum will be its ninth event in Wellington.

The Aspiring Leaders' Forum on faith and values attempts to bridge the growing divide between our nation's young people and its leaders as they come together in Wellington to debate and discuss the ideas and philosophies of leadership. While Members of Parliament host the Forum, the focus is not purely politics: it is about encouraging young people to be better leaders in the areas of society they are engaged in, be it the arts, business, politics or sport.

For the Sake of Our Children Trust is pleased to support this event by supporting young leaders to attend. As the Trust has done so in the past, we look forward to hearing from the young leaders selected to attend and will provide a review of the young leaders experience throughout this weekend. Chairman John Sax will also attend as a group facilitator and speaker. In the past, For the Sake of Our Children Trust staff members have attended and supported the event as facilitators. The Trust is pleased to continue to support a wonderful initiative.
